IKD Delegate

Description	Founded in 1957 as a national association, Federpol represents all officially licensed Italian and Foreign Private Investigators. Licenses are granted by the Ministry of Interior through the Provincial Prefect (Chief Government Officer of the Province) based on criteria established by Police Laws. Federpol – Italian Federation of Private Institutes for Investigation, Information and Security is a national Professional Association representing the interests and unity of all Government license holders according to Art. 134 Consolidated Text of Public Security Laws (Commercial Informants and Private Investigators). Its nature is non-political, non-party and non-profit. Federpol is the first and foremost association of Private Detectives ever been established in Italy. It has a representative in the Central Advisory Panel at the Ministry of Interior.
